

- 1. Create an application, that works with SQLite database and keeps some data. Open a content provider, that is available for other applications.
- 2. Create an application, that connects to the content provider of the i rs application and requests and displays the info retrieved by i rst application.